

The STAR Series

The Star Series is about learning, having fun and developing good habits at an early age. Created by brain-based learning experts from the USA and delivered by world-class professional trainers, the Star Series program will give your students the personal and academic skills to be successful.

Designed for students
AGE 9 ~ 12

Red Star uses dynamic games to teach powerful communication habits. Students will learn how to ask good questions, listen more effectively and to acknowledge others. There is also a strong focus building healthy relationships with family members, teachers and friends.

Learning Theme #1: Communication

Red Star uses role plays to practice more effective communication skills. Each skill has multiple uses and gives a young person the foundational system to be a great communicator.

"I feel like I can talk to anyone, even my teachers. I'm not afraid of asking questions anymore." Ben, Age 11

Learning Theme #2: Relationships

Relationships with family, friends and educators play a critical role in determining the success of young people. This program gives students age appropriate tools for building those relationships.

"I'm going home to tell my parents how much I love them... and maybe my brother." Samantha, Age 11
